CORNELL SCOTT–HILL HEALTH CENTER TO HOST “I CARE” HEALTH FAIR

Generous Grant From Henry Schein Cares Foundation to Support Free Health Screenings, Food and Entertainment

New Haven, CT. — The Cornell Scott–Hill Health Center will be hosting an “I Care” Health Fair on Wednesday, August 13, 2014 at the health center’s 226 Dixwell Avenue location in New Haven. The fair will run from 3:00 p.m. until 7:00 p.m. and will offer free health screenings, health information, food, entertainment and more.

“The “I Care” health fair is based on the idea of bringing the community together to say “I care to keep my community well.” It’s about getting people screened and getting important health information into the community in order to help prevent chronic diseases such as diabetes,” said Rob Rioux, Chief of Strategic Development for the health center.

The fair is being made possible, in part, thanks to a generous grant from the Henry Schein Cares Foundation. In addition to the grant, the Foundation, which seeks to “help health happen” by expanding access to care for at-risk and underserved populations, is providing testing supplies and equipment in order to screen participants for asthma, high blood pressure, diabetes, BMI and oral health issues.

“By working together with community health organizations, such Cornell Scott-Hill Health Center, we can help increase access to care for local underserved communities,” said Stanley Bergman, Chairman of the Board and CEO, Henry Schein, Inc. “Promoting the importance of preventative care is essential to fighting against chronic diseases and improving overall health.”

In addition to the health center, other community-based organizations will also be present to share information about their programs and services and WYBC 94.3 will be on hand to provide live entertainment, giveaways and more.

The event is free and open to the public.
